

Thalles Cabral - It's a New Year And We've Never Been So Old

```
Tell me, why don?t you care?
                            tom:
                B (forma dos acordes no tom de Bb )
                                                                I?m sorry, but I cannot understand
Capostraste na 1ª casa
                                                                What God is that
            Bb
Flying to the Moon
                                                                But history will charge and won?t for \underline{\underline{g}} ive
Inside Apollo 11
                                                                             Bb
                                                                And we, the people, we won?t ever forget
Was my dream last night
                                                                It?s a new year and we?ve never been so old
Floating in the dark
                                                                It?s a new year and we?ve never been so old
            Bh
With little fuel and full of hope
                                                                        Bb
                                                                It?s a new year and we?ve never been so old
              Dm
Searching any light
                                                                It?s a new year and we?ve never been so old
I?m looking for a garden for me
                                                                ( Bb Dm Bb Dm )
I?m broken, scared and with weak knees
                                                                        Bb
                                                                It?s a new year, when did we get so cold?
I need a new place for myself
                                                                It?s a new year, why are you all blindfolded?
Every right my people have earned
                                                                        Bh
                                                                It?s a new year and we are a fucked up world
Achieved and fought for, are now burned
                                                                It?s a new year and our land is being sold
You only think about yourself
                                                                And all we have is love, I can hear ourselves
Can you hear my voice?
                                                                You bet we will hold on, I can hear ourselves
They don?t even seem to hear each other
                                                                                      Bh
                                                                We?ve never been so strong, I can hear ourselves
With all those massive sick thoughts
                                                                And we don?t need more guns, I can hear ourselves
And on one side, they fight
                                                                                     Bb
       Dm
                                                                And all we have is love, I can hear ourselves
On the other, they cry out for chaos
                                                                                     Bb
Until all is destroyed
                                                                And all we have is love, I can hear ourselves
                                                                                    Bb
                                                                And all we have is love, I can hear ourselves
Please, people, move backwards
                                                                And all we have is love, I can hear ourselves
While they throw all those darts
                                                                ( Bb Dm Bb Dm )
At the weakest targets and scream in the name of God
                                                                        Bb
                                                                It?s a new year
Oh, Mr. President
                                                                        Dm
                                                                It?s a new year
            Dm
Its hard to call you this way
                                                                        Bb
                                                                It?s a new year
Because you should work for all
                                                                        Dm
                                                                It?s a new year
Not judging on color, gender or race
                                                                Five, four, three, two, one, happy old year
Oh, Mr. President
                                                                Love is a word not found by them
Acordes
     В
                   вЬ
```

