                                                                 it's in your blood:
   Fm
                                    (each chord only requires
                                                                 You're a man of the streets.
one stroke)
The sun goes down
                                                                 When you said goodbye you were on the run
the night grows in
You can feel it starting all over again.
                                                                 Tryin' to get away from the things you've done.
The moon comes up and the music calls
                                                                 Now you're back again and you're feeling strange
You're gettin' tired of staring at the same four walls.
                                                                 So much has happened and nothing has changed.
You're out of your room and down on the street
                                                                 Still don't know where you're going
                                                                 Am7
Looking through the crowd in the midnight heat.
                                                                 You're still just a face in the crowd.
                                                                 F<sub>m</sub>7
The traffic roars and the sirens scream
                                                                 You belong to the city
You look at the faces
                                                                 you belong to the night
                                                                 (PIANO CHORDS)
it's just like a dream
                                                                 You can feel it - you can taste it -
                                           Bm
Nobody knows where you're going
                                                                 You can see it - you can face it.
                                        \mathsf{Bm}
                                                                 You can hear it - you're getting near it - nobody cares where you've been.
'Cause you belong to the city
                                                                 You wanna make it 'cause you can take it.
you belong to the night
                                                                 You belong to the city
                                                                 you belong to the night
Fm
Living in a river of darkness beneath the neon light.
                                                                 Em7
                                                                 You belong to the city
You were born in the city
                                                                 you belong to the night -
concrete under your feet
                                                                 You belong - you belong.
It's in your moves
