

The Guest List - London

tom:
 Take me to London
 Kiss me on the London eye
 Use me to love on
 And leave beneath the London sky
 Smothered in evening
 The drowsy Sun descends
 To cover her leaving
 And bring our sports to end
 But no, you'll never clean the eyes
 That saw her there breathing
 Well, I know (she's moving away now)
 That I could never love a rolling stone
 (she's moving away now)
 No, I could never leave and carry on
 (it wasn't for long, I know)
 To waste my time
 Take me to London
 Kiss me on the London eye
 Use me to love on
 And leave beneath the London sky

'Cause happy's the closed eye
 And I know (she's moving away now)
 That I could never love a rolling stone
 (she's moving away now)
 No, I could never leave and carry on
 (it wasn't for long, I know)
 To waste my time
 Well, everytime I drop my guard
 Ah, shit
 She goes away, she goes
 Now I recall those times alone
 Of who was right and who was wrong
 We missed the meaning all along
 So when the laughter turns to stone
 I'll take the blade and cut to bone
 I'll let the water freeze me cold
 'Cause what is life if you don't know
 That I would give it all for you?
 Take me to London
 Kiss me on the London eye
 Use me to love on
 And leave beneath the London sky
