Make you taller if you want it
Make your hair grow longer if you need it.
If it doesn't exist then I guess we can breed it.

There'll be no disagreements,
We'll dedicate our lives to achievements,
And organise your life and keep it totally planned.
artificial artificial man artificial artificial man

I can visualise the day
When the world will be controlled by artificial people,
But I don't want to live a lie in an artificial world.

Tell the world we finally did it.
Modified the population,
Put your senses and your mind
Under constant observation
Even when you're dreaming.
Replaced your nose, heart and lungs,
So shake me with your artificial hand.
We went and built a master race
To live within our artificial world.
