The Kooks - Bad Habit

```
Tom: Bb
                                                           Looking for a stranger
   Cm
                                                                                 Cm
                                                           Fb
Baby got our head down
                                                           Looking for a stranger to love
Baby got our head down to the ground
                                                                   Eb
                                                           You say you want it, but
Looking for a stranger
                                                              Ab
                                                           You can't get it
                         Cm
Fb
                                                                   Eb Bb Ab
Looking for a stranger to love
                                                          Cm
                                                           You got yourself, a bad habit
Cm
You got to touch your eyes and crush your tears
                                                          Cm Eb Bb
                                                           Oh look at you, walking up and down a pole
Cm
You gotta let go, come with me
                                                          Cm Eb Bb Ab
                                                           I say breathe, stay with me
Looking for a stranger
                                                          Cm Eb Bb
                                                           You say you want it, but
                         Cm
Eb
Looking for a stranger to love
                                                             Ab
                                                           You can't get it in Eb
                                                          Cm Eb Bb
                      Bb
                                                                                Ab
                                                           You got yourself, a bad habit
 You say you want it, but
                                                         Cm Eb Bb Ab
Oh look at you, walking up and down a pole
    Ab
 You can't get it
      Eb
               Bb
                   Ab
                                                          Cm Eb
 You got yourself, a bad habit
                                                           I say breathe
   Eb Bb
                             Ab
                                                          Bb
                                                                               Bb
Oh look at you, walking up and down a pole
Cm Eb Bb Ab
                                                           Oh man, oh man, oh man
 I say breathe, stay with me
                                                           You know I wish I had it all
Cm
       Eb
                    Bb
 You say you want it, but
                                                           Solo 4x: Cm Eb Bb Ab
   Ab
You can't get it in
         Eb Bb
                      Ab
 You got yourself, a bad habit
Cm Eb Bb Ab
 Oh look at you, walking up and down a pole
                                                          You know I wish I had it all
Cm
   Eb
 I say breathe
                                                                   Eb
                                                                                 Bb
                                                           You say you want it, but
Bb
                     Bb
Oh man, oh man, oh man
                                                             Ab
You know I wish I had it all
                                                          You can't get it
                                                                         Bb
                                                          Cm
                                                               Eb
                                                                                 Ab
Cm
                                                           You got yourself, a bad habit
Baby got our head down
                                                                   Eb Bb
                                                          Cm
                                                           m Eb вр станов
Oh look at you, walking up and down a pole
Cm
Baby tryna stand down in the crowd
                                                          Cm
                                                           I say breathe
Looking for a stranger
                                                          Bb
                                                                              Bb
                        Cm
                                                          Oh man, oh man, oh man
Fb
                                                          Cm Eb Bb
Looking for a stranger to love
                                                          You cant get it, it's a
Cm
You got to touch your eyes and crush your tears
                                                           Ab
                                                                      Cm
                                                           a bad habit, such a
Cm
You gotta let go, come with me
                                                          A bad habit such a bad bad habit
                                                          it's a, a bad habit
```

Ab

Ab

Acordes

