

The Kooks - Shine On

```
Tom: Gb
                                                               (Sha la la la)
                                             C)
 (com acordes na forma de
Capostraste na 6º casa
                                                                 Shine, shine, shine on (riff 1 - 2x)
(riff 2)
                                                                  Won't you shine, shine on
                                                               Because your not done
Safety pins
                                                               Why do you bite the hand
                                                                     Bm
                                                               That feeds you
Holding up the things
That make you
                                                               Why do you
                                                               Why do you bite the hand
About your hair
                                                                             Bm
                                                               That feeds, you yeah
You needn't care
You look beautiful
                                                               (solo)
All of the time
                                                                 Shine, shine, shine on
 Shine, shine, shine on
                                                                       G
  Yes
         G
                                                                 Won't you shine, shine on
 Won't you shine, shine on
                                                               (Sha la la la)
Your magazines
                                                                 Shine, shine, shine on
At people at the seams
But you still r
                                                                             G
                                                                Won't you shine, shine on
I must admit
                                                               Safety pins
I don't believe in it
                                                               Holding up the things

F
F
Dm
That make your
But I see how
                                                               That make you
You get sucked in
                                                               About your hair
 Shine, shine, shine on
                                                               You needn't care
                                                               You look beautiful
  Yes
               G
   Won't you shine, shine on
                                                               All of the time
```

Acordes

