The Maine - Run

```
Tom: Bb
                                                                 More than you'll ever think
                                                                                   Gbm
                                                                                               D
                                                                 How'd I become so ruthless?
                                              A)
 (com acordes na forma de
Capostraste na lª casa
                                                                                    Bm
                                                                 Where is the other me?
Intro: Gbm D A Bm (x4)
                                                                                             Gbm
                               D
                                                                 Don't tell me this thing's loaded
                  Gbm
I wonder what you taste like
                                                                                     Bm
                                                                             Α
                                                                 Please don't tell me anything at all
   Α
                    Bm
The salt within your skin
         Gbm
                 D
                                                                         D
Evil rages inside
                                                                  You put the gun
                          Bm
                                                                 Gbm
      Α
                                                                            E.
Now I'm hungry for blood again
                                                                   In my hand so now run
                     Gbm
                                                                           D
                                                                 A
                                                                   I'll stall the demons
The moon invites the madness
                                                                 Gbm
      Α
                        Bm
                                                                                  Е
Brings out the worst in me
                                                                   But you really should be leaving
                           Gbm
                                    D
                                                                 А
                                                                                    D
Don't tell me this thing's loaded
                                                                  I never meant to hurt anyone
           Α
                   Bm
                                                                 Gbm
Please don't tell me anything at all
                                                                   I really thought that we were just having fun
                                                                 Α
                                                                           D
                                                                  But you put the gun
        D
 You put the gun
                                                                 Gbm
                                                                            E
                                                                  In my hand so now run
Gbm
          E
 In my hand so now run
        D
                                                                 Bridge:
 I'll stall the demons
Gbm
                E
                                                                 Gbm Dbm Gbm Dbm
 But you really should be leaving
                                                                 Bm A D E
                                                                         D
Α
                  D
                                                                 Α
 I never meant to hurt anyone
                                                                   You put the gun
Gbm
                                                                 Gbm
                                                                           E
                                 F
 I really thought that we were just having fun
                                                                   In my hand so now run
    D
                                                                 Α
                                                                          D
                                                                   I'll stall the demons
 But you put the gun
Gbm
                                                                 Gbm
           E
                                                                                  F
 In my hand so now run
                                                                   But you really should be leaving
                                                                 Α
                                                                                   D
Gbm D A Bm (x2)
                                                                   I never meant to hurt anyone
                                                                 Gbm
                  Gbm
                                                                   I really thought that we were just having fun
                         D
It's cheaper to be guilty
                                                                             D
                         Bm
                                                                  But you put the gun
    Α
Than lie right through my teeth
                                                                 Gbm
                                                                          E
               Gbm
                                                                   In my hand so now run
                        D
But god damn it kills me
                                                                 Outro: Gbm D A Bm (x2)
                      Bm
Acordes
      BЬ
                   Gbn
                                 D
                                                             Bn
                                                                          Ε
                                                                                       Dbn
                                                                                              ukulele-chords.com
                         Jkulele-chords.com
                                       ukulele-chords.com
                                                                                ukulele-chords.com
            ukulele-chords.com
                                                     Jkulele-chords.com
                                                                   Jkulele-chords.com
                                                                                    5
```