from the album "louder than bombs" tab'ed by stephen cheng this one sounds rather nice on an accoustic guitar and, as there is no instrument break, particularly suitable as a solo. the song is in 6/8 time, and each dash of each bar denotes 1/4 note, except the first and last dash of each bar, which are used 'cos it looks nicer. the tab more or less indicates the chord positions, so you should strum through the song as you sing along. ..oh, and you don't need to capo! wow! ;)

percussion intro: just strum along and simulate.

on the high rise estate
what's at the back of your mind?
on a three-day debate
what's at the back of your mind?
two icy-cold hands conducting the way it's the eskimo blood in my veins amid the concrete and clay and general decay nature must still find a way so ignore all the codes of the day let your juvenile impulses sway this way and that way and this way and that way

god, how sex implores you to let yourself loose yourself

stretch out and wait
stretch out and wait
let your puny body lie down, let down

as we lie you say
stretch out and

stretch out and wait
stretch out and wait
let your puny body lie down, lie down
as we lie you say:
will the world end in the night time?
(i really don't know)
or will the world end in the day time?
(i really don't know)
and is there any point in ever having children?

no, i don't know what i do know is we're here and it's now, so

there's no debate, no debate, no debate how can you consciously contemplate when there's no debate, no debate
stretch out and wait

stretch out and wait
stretch out and wait
wait, wait, wait, etc.

outro.
