

The Strokes - The Adults Are Talking

tom:
 They've been saying, you're sophisticated
 They're complaining, over-educated
 You are saying all the words I'm dreaming
 Say it after me
 Say it after me
 They will blame us, crucify, and shame us
 We can't help it if we are a problem
 We are trying hard to get your attention
 Climbing up your wall
 Climbing up your wall
 Don't go there 'cause you'll never return
 I know you think of me when you think of her
 But then it don't make sense
 When you're trying hard to do the right thing
 But without recompense
 And then you did something wrong and they said it was great
 And now you don't know how you could ever complain
 Because you're all confused 'cause you want me to
 But then you want me to do it the same as you
 (F Dm F Dm)
 (F Dm F Dm C)
 You were waiting for the elevator
 You were saying all the words I'm dreaming
 No more asking, questions or excuses

Information's here
 Here and everywhere
 Don't go there 'cause you'll never return
 I know you think of me when you think of her
 But then it don't make sense
 When you're trying hard to do the right thing
 But without recompense
 And then you did something wrong and they said it was great
 And now you don't know how you could ever complain
 Because you're all confused 'cause you want me to
 But then you want me to do it the same way as you
 But I don't, I don't want anything
 I know it's not, it's not your fault
 I don't want anyone
 As I do in life for you
 (Gm C F Bb)
 (Gm C F)
 (Stockholders)
 Same shit, a different life
 I'll get it right sometime
 Oh, maybe not tonight
 Oh, maybe not tonight
 Oh, maybe not tonight
 Oh, maybe not tonight
 Oh, maybe not tonight
 (Gm C F)
