Like, damn
                tom:
                                                                Even sugar tastes sweeter out your hands
                B (forma dos acordes no tom de A )
Capostraste na 2º casa
Intro: F
                                                                I come back every time
                                                                Man, oh, man for your candy lips
 Honey, you got all of me
                                                                I drop all my plans
Mixin' up the sweet with the sour taste
                                                                Then you turn cold and I turn bitter
  First, your nails are digging deep
                                                                 Bit of this and a bit of that
 Then you're saying you need sleep
 Bringin' out the worst in me
                                                                It's bittersweet how you bring me back, oh
                                                                You turn cold and I turn bitter
Supernaturally but you do it best
A cherry cola cigarette
                                                                 Bit of this and a bit of that
 Bad for me, so hard to quit
                                                                It's bittersweet how you bring me back, oh
  I-i-i-i don't think I could love you more, it's impossible
                                                                You turn cold and I turn bitter
                                                                 I-i-i-i don't think I could love you more, it's impossible
I'm like, damn
Even sugar tastes sweeter out your hands
                                                                I'm like, damn
I come back every time
                                                                Even sugar tastes sweeter out your hands
Man, oh, man for your candy lips
                                                                I come back every time
I drop all my plans
                                                                Man, oh, man for your candy lips
Then you turn cold and I turn bitter
                                                                I drop all my plans
  I'm sick of all the arguin'
                                                                Then you turn cold and I turn bitter
                                                                 Damn, damn
But your cinnamon got me back again
 You build a bridge then burn it down
                                                                Then you turn cold and I turn bitter
 Just to feel the heat around
                                                                Bit of this and a bit of that
Why, why do I stare, stare in those eyes?
                                                                It's bittersweet how you bring me back, oh
I get tongue-ti?d
                                                                You turn cold and I turn bitter
Tied to your powerful, powerful
                                                                Bit of this and a bit of that
I los? all, lose all control
                                                                It's bittersweet how you bring me back, oh
                                                                You turn cold and I turn bitter
