                                                               Must put an end to this disorder
                                                               I want the light back in my life
Verse:
Everything is gray
                                                                     Eb
    Eb
All around me is decayed
Darkness invades me again
                                                               Chorus:
The blood is boiling in my veins
                                                               Another war is beginning
          Eb
Anger is showing through my face
                                                               More blood is spilling
Clouding up my mind
This destruction brings me pain
There is no other way
                                                               Another storm is growing
                                                                 Eb
I need to have my revenge
                                                               More wind is blowing
Another war is beginning
       Eb
More blood is spilling
                                                               Base 2x: ( G Eb C D )
Another soul is been taken away
                                                               Chorus:
                                                               Another war is beginning
                                                                       Eb
Another storm is growing
                                                               More blood is spilling
More wind is blowing
A hurricane that won't go away
Till it's all exterminated
                                                               Another storm is growing
Verse:
                                                               More wind is blowing
There is no escape
       Eb
From the visions in my head
It feels like I've been in hell
                                                               Till it's all exterminated
I won't rest until is over
