The White Stripes - Im Bound To Pack It Up

```
Tom: G
Intro: x
                                                                 there are so many things you need to know
                                                                 and I wanna tell you before I go
                                                                                                         D
Verso (igual a intro)
                                                                 but it's hard to think of just what to say
D
I've thought about it for a while Refrão
F
                                                                               G
                                                                 I'm gonna pick it up
and I've thought about the many miles
                                                                                      D
G
                                                                               G
but I think it's time that I've gone away
                                                                 I'm gonna pick it up today
D
                                                                               G
the feelings that you have for me
                                                                 I'm bound pack it up
                                                                                              F
                                                                               G
                                                                                                    G
have gone away it's plain to see
                                                                 I'm bound pack it up and go away
                                      D
G
and it looks to me that your pulling away
                                                                 Verso
                                                                 D
Refrão
                                                                 I'm sorry to leave you all alone
                                                                 you're sitting silent by the phone
                                                                 but we'd always known there would come a day
              G
I'm gonna pick it up
                     D
                                                                 the bus is warm and softly lit
              G
I'm gonna pick it up today
                                                                 and a hundred people ride in it
              G
I'm bound pack it up
              G
                            F
                                   G
                                                                 I guess I'm just another runaway
I'm bound pack it up and go away
                                                                 Refrão
(Repete Into 2x)
                                                                               G
                                                                 I'm gonna pick it up
Verso
                                                                                        D
                                                                               G
D
                                                                 I'm gonna pick it up today
I've found it hard to say to you
                                                                               G
                                                                 I'm bound pack it up
that this is what I have to do
                                                                               G
                                                                                              F
                                                                                                     G
                                                                 I'm bound pack it up and go away
                                    D
but there is no way that I'm gonna stay
```

Acordes

