

Theory Of A Deadman - End Of The Summer

```
Tom: Eb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of it all
Here we are
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Db
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         Those days are gone, it's over now were moving on
                            Rh
At the end
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of the summer
                              Db
Say goodbye to all your friends
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         But we'll see it all again
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      Db
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         So hold on 'till this moment 'till then
Here we go
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of the summer
watching the sun go 'round
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          Db
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         End of the summer
Sitting on a rooftop making time stop % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) \left
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         [Solo] Eb Bb Db Ab
I never wanna come back down
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        Ride's almost over never wanna come down
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's getting colder
It's the end of the summer
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Db
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         Take one last look
It's the end of it all
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         Before it passes by
Those days are gone, it's over now were moving on Before it passes you by
                                                                               Fb
It's the end of the summer
                               Bb
But we'll see it all again
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of the summer
       Db
So hold on 'till this moment 'till then
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of it all
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               Db
It's the end of the summer
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         Those days are gone, it's over now were moving on
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of the summer
Here we stand
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         But we'll see it all again
In the middle of an empty street
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         So hold on 'till this moment 'till then
Tell me where you wanna go
I''ll tell you that's where I wanna be
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        It's the end of the summer
                                                                           Eb
Say goodbye to the warm breeze
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of it all
                                          Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                Eb
We could be almost anywhere
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         Those days are gone, it's over now were moving on
                        Db
I'll miss you 'till the next time
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of the summer
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         But we'll see it all again
I hope I see you there
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Fb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         So hold on 'till this moment 'till then
     I hope I see you back here
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         It's the end of the summer
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Eb F
It's the end of the summer
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         End of the summer
Acordes
                      Еb
                                                                                                                               Db
```

