

Third Eye Blind - Good man

Tom: A

Intro: E

A
If you ever find a way to forgive me E
A
If you ever find a way to put this all to rest E
A
Because I'm hanging on your dress now like a little boy E
Dbm
When all that you wanted
A
All that you wanted was a good man E
A
Right in the middle of another big fight
A
Boom back another one tonight
E
Blood never forgets but who protects the memories
A
When we bleed each other from the vein
E
And if you ever find a way to make this interesting A
And if I ever find a way to stop disintegrating A
E
Into pieces that I was, that you destroy
Dbm
When all that you wanted
A
All that you wanted was a good man E
Right in the middle of another big fight E
Go to bed, it's getting light out
Why do you, why do you
E
Why do you always find me in the places when I'm coming down A
D
And how do you do it when I'm overwhelmed by a violet sky Dbm

D
And we fly in a decayed orbit
Dbm
66 thousand miles an hour goes by when we kissed D
D
And only now do I feel your mouth
Dbm
Like an ache you never knew
And it was right in front of you
Oh, how do you do it, roots in the soil untangled Dbm
Releasing in sweet summer oil
Dbm
Still I recoil like mace
D
In all the little moments I pushed you away that I can't erase
Dbm
Every moment overflows with power
A E A E A
66 thousand miles an hour
E A
If you ever find a way to forgive me
E A
If you ever find a way to put this all to rest
E A
Because I'm hanging on your dress now like a little boy
Dbm
When all that you wanted
A
All that you wanted was a good man E
Dbm
When all that you wanted
A E E A E
All that you wanted was a good man
Was a good man...
