

Third Eye Blind - My Hit And Run

Tom: D

Here are some sections of this song, the cool parts anyway.
This is my first tab also

The chorus chords are G D A

This part is a fill section between the chorus and verse, easy and fun to play. 2nd
I do a slide down from the 10th fret on the low E between the open G and D chords, although song may actually use power chords.

It's easier to pull off to open strings here.

Over the chorus A chord I do this because there are 2 guitars or more

The Verse chords sound like bar chords in standard A D G D form moved up to the tenth and they're not complicated, but It's getting late maybe I'll do them later.
