

Third Eye Blind - Narcolepsy

Tom: C

Tabbed by: Kevin Brosky (3EBdude)

this on here so this is my tab.

First off, the tuning is: Gb A D Gb A E (sidenote: this is also the tuning for Forget Myself)

It also should be known that this is played in all one part. So it goes like this for the intro/verse:

"I can feel this narcolepsy slide into another nightmare..."

Then the distortion kicks in and you strum those beginning chords

That's the basis of the whole song. There is a lot that repeats. The only thing left I think would be the solo:

(Played only on the high <code>E</code> string, it goes pretty fast)

That gets repeated several times. Let the chords ring and you should be able to

Then comes this part:

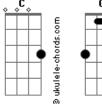

"I try to keep awake..."

Ok, that should be it for this song. If I left out some little bits and pieces, it shouldn't be hard to figure them out using what I have hear. Just listen to the recording of it to get the timing and strum patterns down. Eniov!
