

Timeless Hearts - Only for You

Through the quiet of the stars, I?m waiting tom:
Gb (forma dos acordes no tom de E ) Capostraste na 2^{a} casa Intro: E A Dbm B A (2x)
                                                                 All the moments with you, recreating
                                                                 Even the silence feels right
In the middle of the night, I?m dreaming
                                                                                B A
                                                                 I would relive every night
Every thought of you keeps me believing
            Dbm
                                                                 Through the highs and the lows
When you?re away, you?re my light
                                                                 No matter where we go
         Α
Only for you I?d stay up all night
                                                                            Ε
                                                                 Only for you I?d give it all
Through the highs and the lows
        B A
No matter where we go
                                                                 Break through the clouds no matter how far
                                                                            Dbm
                                                                 I?ll hold on tight through every storm
          Ε
Only for you I?d give it all
                                                                 Only for you my heart was born
Break through the clouds no matter how far
           Dbm
                                                                 Only for you I?d give it all
I?ll hold on tight through every storm
                                                                 Break through the clouds no matter how far
Only for you my heart was born
                                                                 To love like you
          F
Only for you I?d give it all
                                                                          В
                                                                 And everything I do
Break through the clouds no matter how far
To love like you
                                                                 To love like you
                                                                          В
And everything I do
                                                                 And everything I do
                                                                 Is only for you
Is only for you
