for the last two Fm chords, i like to play this:
(these are straight quarter notes)

Fm

Fm

i guess that's about everything... have fun jamming, this is a wonderful song to improvise over.

i like to play the verse chords with as many fingers as i can.
(does that make any sense?) i think it allows for a more controled muting.
it also sounds good to barre them. of course it also sounds goo to play the bass part of the verses.

and also... sorry if some of words are mixed up or spelled wrong, this all from memory.

and if you've never heard the Big Time album it's worth buying for this song alone (to say nothing of Raindogs!)
