

Tori Kelly - Your Words

```
Intro: A E A E Gbm7 E A
                                                               And stories told from Kingston to Queens
                                                                        Gbm7
                                                               A life of love and memories
[Verso 1]
                                                               [Pré-Refrão]
An empty house
A dusty room
                                                               And I know that I?ll see you again
E Gbm7
                                                                     Gbm7
A photograph
                                                               But I don?t want this to be the end
  Е
Of me and you
                                                               It?s hard to say goodbye
 F
A song of hope
                                                               Cuz you?re gone this time
      Α
In your ear
                                                               [Refrão]
               Gbm7
Your smile told me
                                                                But every part of me misses
That you could hear
                                                                Every part of you
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                               And with all the chaos in my world
And I know that I?ll see you again
                                                               I could really use your words
     Gbm7
                                                               And every part of me wishes
But I don?t want this to be the end
It?s hard to say goodbye
                                                                That you could make me see different
Cuz you?re gone this time
                                                               Through all the heartache all the hurt
                                                               I could really use you words right now
[Refrão]
                                                               [Ponte]
But every part of me misses
                                                                    Abm7 A
 Every part of you
                                                               Heaven rejoices
And with all the chaos in my world
                                                               Saints lift their voices
I could really use your words
                                                               As they welcome you home
                                                               Gbm7
                                                                          Abm7 A
And every part of me wishes
                                                                Streets are now gold for you
                                                                         Bm7
                                                               And God is now holdin? you
That you could make me see different
                                                               And you?ll never be alone
Through all the heartache all the hurt
I could really use you words right now
                                                               [Refrão]
[Verso 2]
                                                                But every part of me misses
The smell of pine
                                                                Every part of you
Forest green
                                                               And with all the chaos in my world
       Gbm7
A winter fire of fallen trees
                                                               I could really use your words
