

Two Door Cinema Club - Sleep Alone

```
He sleeps alone,
                                                                       Am7
                                                            He needs no army where he's headed ?cause he knows

                                                             That they're just ghosts
                                                                          Am7
 Am7
                                                             And they can't hurt him if he can see them, oh
My only goal is to see
                                                                  And I may go
When I'm only fast asleep
                                                                     Am7
                                                                                 D
                                                             To places I have never been to just to find
      Am7
It takes more than strength to find
                                                                      C Am7

This piece of mind
                                                             BRIDGE
PRE-CHORUS
So I'll hold, hold, hold, hold it close
                                                                It's in my head
          Am7
To my heart beating with every step
                                                             And I have said
Hold, hold, hold it close
                                                             That I must be like him now
                                                                 He sleeps alone,
      He sleeps alone,
                                                                He sleeps alone
          Am7
He needs no army where he's headed 'cause he knows
                                                                And one last chance
That they're just ghosts
             Am7
                                                             To make sense
And they can't hurt him if he can see them, oh
                                                             Of what has long escaped us
     And I may go
       Am7

                                                               He sleeps alone,
To places I have never been to just to find
                                                               I sleep alone

                                                                     Am7
                                                            He needs no army where he's headed 'cause he knows
We,
                                                             That they're just ghosts
We only know, what we see
                                                                          Am7
                                                             And they can't hurt him if he can see them, oh
'Cause we're always fast asleep
       Am7
                                                              And I don't know
Is it so hard not to believe
                                                                     Am7
That we'll never know
                                                             If in the morning I will be here and if so
PRE-CHORUS
                                                             Let it be known
                                                                       Am7
                                                             That I was worthy
Oh hold, hold, hold me close
       Am7
                                                             I was worthy
I've never been this far from home
                                                             I was worthy
Hold, hold, hold me close
                                                             I was
                                                             (C G Em C)
