

U2 - Glastonbury

```
Tom: C
                                                                Nothing for the house of rain
   (riff 1)
                                                                                     Am7
                                                                Nothing that has ever been (intro 4x)
(riff 1) E
                                                                Hey that's known as the flowering rose, a flowering rose that (riff 2)
                                                                said my name
                        Am7
                                                                Kings and wine the flowering rose, the flowering rose of Take me to the house of rain
                                                                Glastonbury
                        Am7
You know I'm gonna never be (riff 2)
Matches in a simple way
                                                                Yeah, oh rock n roll sunshine
                                                                Yeah oh a miracle will give you time
As the structure sits along the way
Hey that's known as the flowering rose, a flowering rose that (riff 1 e 2)
said my name
                                                                Living like a pilgrim sleeping
Kings and wine the flowering rose, the flowering rose of
                                                                Under the flower of the American dream
Glastonbury
(riff 2)
                                                                Set the scene like a thought worth keepin
Yeah, oh, rock and roll sunshine
                                                                Livin in a dream jeez you can't be sleepin
                                                                (riff 2)
Yeah, oh, a miracle will give you time
  Some things you just can't control
                                                                Yeah, oh, rock n roll sunshine
                                                                Yeah, oh, A miracle will give you time
   Sometimes you have to let go
                                                                Yeah, oh rock n roll sunshine
                                                                Yo oh rock n roll sunshine
(riff 1 e 2)
                                                                A miracle will give you time
                                                                A miracle will giv you time
                     Am7
                                                                A miracle will let you fly
Going to a brand new set
                                                                A miracle
Music it will set me right
                                                                ( E )
```

Acordes

