

Underoath - When The Sun Sleeps

```
Close my eyes just for tonight
m [Intro] Em D Em D C
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     The sun still sleeps and when she wakes
                                                                     Em D
I thought you'd come back
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Close my eyes just for tonight
Em D C
At least i prayed (so I prayed)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     The sun still sleeps and when she wakes
The romance has been dead (the [Ponte]
Romance is dead the romance is dead)
                                                                            Em
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        Maybe love will find us again
For years (you come back)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       D
                                                       D Em
But i've been too afraid
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     For there is always tomorrow
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     C Em D
                                  D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Sincerely till the end
To dig the grave (so i prayed)
Relief support never came
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Close my eyes just for tonight
   Em D Em D
Memories carry me through the day
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     The sun still sleeps
Of when we were kids
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    And when she wakes
Em D Em D
   And angels came to watch us play
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       Close my eyes just for tonight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        D
[Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     The sun still sleeps
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     And when she wakes
   Close my eyes just for tonight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     [Refrão]
The sun still sleeps and when she wakes
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Close my eyes just for tonight
   Close my eyes just for tonight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     The sun still sleeps and when she wakes
The sun still sleeps and when she wakes
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Close my eyes just for tonight
(Em D Em D C)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     The sun still sleeps and when she wakes
                                                      D Em D
A movie that plays in my mind
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     (Am C Em D)
             С
      Remembering you helps me survive % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     [Final]
Em D Em D
   Every day a re-run of the next
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          You'll be a memory (be a memory)
     I promised to stay by your side
m D Em D
That all would change
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Em
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     You'll be a memory (be a memory)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     You'll be a memory (be a memory)
       I can't complain
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     You'll be a memory
Another victim of the game
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           C Em D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     Memory memory memory
[Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     (Am C Em D)
(Am C Em C)
```

Acordes

