

Viza - Breakout The Violins

tom:
Em
A bird, a plane, a face
That I can remember for days, and days, and days
You are the temptations that fool
The cruelest of goals
And offer surrender and lies
And lies So nice
You're hundred percent of a fool
You're cruel And spew
Your thousands and thousands of lies
To hide Your crime
The creeps the nip of your skin
So thin, so thin?
Break out the violins
Break out the violins
Break out the violins now
Break out the violins
The shame and days Of us
I can remember the days of rain And lust
What happend to my surprise?
Surprise! Your task
Your only direction is blame and shame
Not trust
If I can only confuse the use with sex
With a little objection of rules
And tools no less

Then I would choose to loose my friends at best

Break out the violins!
Break out the violins
Break out the violins now
Break out the violins
She's pretending to be playing violins
She swears to not even know
She's pretending to be playing violins
She swears to not even know
She's pretending to be playing violins
She swears to not even know
She's pretending to be playing violins
She swears to not even know
She's pretending to be playing violins
She swears to not even know
She's pretending to be playing violins
She swears to not even know
She's pretending to be playing violins
She swears to not even know
She's pretending to be playing violins
She swears to not even know
Break out the violins
Break out the violins
Cause you are the reason that I jumped!
