

Wallows - Bad Dream

```
Are you having a bad dream, baby?
 Am D7 G Em
 Tossin' and turnin' in our sheets lately
               tom:
Intro: Am D7 G Em
                                                               Am B7
Am B7
                                                               Are you having a bad dream, baby?
                                                               Am
                                                                               B7
                  G maj7
                                                               I wanna wake you and you won't let me
Every night when you talk in your sleep
Am D7
                                                                           D
                                                                                    Bm
                     G
I try to stop you from grinding your teeth
                                                               These nights are cold, you're not alone
Am D7 G Em
                                                               C D Bm Em
Are you running away from something?
                                                               I lie awake and feel you shake
                                                                            Bm
Am D7
                                                                    D
                     G
                            Em
                                                                                        Fm
Are you worried you're feeling nothing?
                                                               I hold you close, but you never know
Am D7
                  G
Here we go again, tell me what's been left unsaid Am D7 G Em
                                                               Is it just your dream or reality?
I'm not in your head, can you help me understand?
                                                                     D7
                                                                               G
                                                               Are you having a bad dream, baby?
                                                                    D7
                                                                              G
Are you having a bad dream, baby?

Am D7 G Em
                                                               A reflection of your thoughts lately
                                                               Am D7 G
                                                                                     Em
Tossin' and turnin' in our sheets lately
                                                               Are you having a bad dream, baby?
Am B7
                                                                                      B7
Are you having a bad dream, baby?
                                                               I wanna wake you and you won't let me (Here we go again)
Am
                  B7
I wanna wake you, but you won't let me
                                                                                G
                                                                                        Fm
                                                               Are you having a bad dream, baby?
[Post-Chorus]
                                                               Am D7
                                                                             G
                                                                                       Em
Am D7 G Em
                                                               Are you having a bad dream, baby? (Here we go again)
                                                               Am D7 G Em
                                                               Are you having a bad dream, baby?
                    G
                                                                                      B7
Does it linger when days are still young?
                                                               I wanna wake you, but you won't let me (Here we go again)
Am D7 G Em
Daydreaming and biting your tongue
         D7
                                                                Am D7 G Em
                   G
On the other hand, maybe I misunderstand
                                                               Here we go again
Am D7
                     G
Here I go again, am I projecting all your plans?
                                                                Am D7 G Em
                                                                Am B7
    D7
              G
                         Fm
Acordes
                                D7
                                                                        В7
                                                          En
                                                                                                                Bn
           ukulele-chords.com
                         ukulele-chords.com
                                      ukulele-chords.com
                                                   ukulele-chords.com
                                                                 ukulele-chords.com
                                                                              ukulele-chords.com
                                                                                           ukulele-chords.com
                                                                                                         ukulele-chords.com
                         ukulele-chords.com
           ukulele-chords.com
```