

Wanessa - Hair & Soul

```
Tom: D
                                                              Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
                                                                               Rm
It's never easy looking like a million dollars (oh, no!)
                                                              Like it's rich as go-oh-oh-oh-gold
Hey, all my ladies, "holla" if you know
                                                              Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
Always busy never stop-in, livin' life on the go
                                                              A natural beauty you already know
                                                              Let me hear you say
That is ok, cause it's how we role
                                                              Hey, all my ladies, we're so beautiful
And we all have our own way of showing it (showing it)
                                                              We got so much style, oh yeah, hair and soul
It feels so good, take control of it (control of it)
                                                              Hey, all my ladies, we're so beautiful
You can't hide, what's deep inside of you, so bring it out
                                                              We got so much style, oh yeah, hair and soul
Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
                                                              Beauty, skin deep, way down inside of you
                                                                              Bm
                                                              There's no one else that can look the way you do
Like it's rich as go-oh-oh-oh-gold
Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
                                                              So walk tall with pride
A natural beauty you already know
                                                              You're a woman with so much attitude
                                                                  D Bm
                  G
                                                              Hair up or down, they're gonna know the truth
Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
Like it's rich as go-oh-oh-oh-gold
                                                              Hair and soul
                  G
Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
                                                              Hair and soul
A natural beauty you already know
Let me hear you say
                                                              Hair and soul
                                                              Hair and soul
Hey, all my ladies, we're so beautiful
We got so much style, oh yeah, hair and soul
                                                              Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
Hey, all my ladies, we're so beautiful
                                                              Like it's rich as go-oh-oh-oh-gold
We got so much style, oh yeah, hair and soul
                                                              Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
                                                              A natural beauty you already know
Can't explain the way it feels
                                                                                 G
                                                              Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
When your true color shows
                                                              Like it's rich as go-oh-oh-oh-gold
Hey, all my ladies, ?holla? if you know
                                                              Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
It's a feeling like no other, shining head to toe (toe)
                                                              A natural beauty you already know
You're in your skin living comfortable
                                                              Let me hear you say
                                                              Hey, all my ladies, we're so beautiful
And we all have our own way of showing it (showing it)
It feels so good, take control of it (control of it)
                                                              We got so much style, oh yeah, hair and soul
You can't hide, what's deep inside of you, so bring it out
                                                              Hey, all my ladies, we're so beautiful
                                                              We got so much style, oh yeah, hair and soul
Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
Like it's rich as go-oh-oh-oh-gold
                                                              Hey all my ladies are
Shine your hair and so-oh-oh-oul
                                                              Hey all my ladies are
A natural beauty you already know
                                                              Hey all my ladies are
```

Acordes

