

Weyes Blood - Andromeda

tom:
 Intro: A Dbm Gbm A
 Abm A Abm A
A Dbm Gbm
 Andromeda's a big, wide open galaxy
                                                                                                                 Α
                                                                                                                                                                                     Fb7
 Nothing in it for me except a heart that's lazy
                                                                                                                         Е
 Running from my own life now
 I'm really turning some time % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left(
                                        Gbm Db7
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 Gbm B7
 Looking up to the sky for something I may never find
 E Ab7
 Stop calling
Db7 Gbm Db7
 It's time to let me be
 If you think you can save me
 I'd dare you to try
   ( A Dbm Gbm A )
  (Abm A Abm A)
                                                    Dbm Gbm
 Lift the heart from the depths it's fallen to
 We all want something new
Eb7 Abm
 But can't seem to follow through
 Something's better than nothing
 Bm E
Or so that I thought Db7
                                                                                                                                          Gbm
 Now I know it's just one dream
                                                                                                                                                      Gbm B7
 All these others gonna tear me apart
 E Ab7
 Love is calling
                  Db7 Gbm
 It's time to let it through

Find a love that will make you
Ab B
I dare you try
( A Dbm Gbm A )
(Abm A Abm A)
    Db7
Crazy guy
I think this is deep
Gbm
Think it's meant to be
More than anything I can think of
Ab B
I'm ready to try
(A) (Dbm)
Treat me right
 (Gbm )
I'm still a good man's daughter
Abm
             Α
Let me in if I break
 Eb7 Abm
And be quiet if I shatter
Bm
Getting tired of looking
Bm
You know that I hate the game
Don't wanna waste any more time
Db7 Gbm B7
You know I been holding out
E Ab7
Love is calling
  Db7 Gbm Db7
It's time to give to you
Something you can hold onto
Ab B
I dare you try
[Final] A Dbm Gbm A
Abm A Abm A
