

Why Don't We - Falling

You don't wanna be touched
                            tom:
                                                                It's a shame girls like you don't know how to love

                                                                Try to give you my all but it's not enough
            Em
                                                                Can't you see that I'm falling
Girls like you, they just don't understand
                                                                Can't you see that I'm falling, falling for you
Didn't mean harm but you killed a man
Loving you never was in the plan
                                                                Show me where your heart is
                                                                Can't you see that I'm falling, falling for you
Stuck in your ways, I sink in your sand
                                                                Can't you see that I'm honest, and I want this
I swear I saw you comin'
                                                                Can't believe that I'm falling, like this, for you
I'm a fool for wantin'
                                                                Can't you see that I'm falling
You don't wanna be rushed
                                                                I'm falling, falling for you
You don't wanna be touched
It's a shame girls like you don't know how to love
                                                                In my dreams, in my hopes
Try to give you my all, but it's not enough
                                                                In my mind they remind me of you
                                                                  Should've left when I could, can't get out
Can't you see that I'm falling
                                                                I don't know what to do
Can't you see that I'm falling, falling for you
Show me where your heart is
                                                                 You can dig my grave, 'cause I can't be saved
Can't you see that I'm falling, falling for you
                                                                Like a grain of sand lost in a tidal wave
                       Fm
Can't you see that I'm honest, and I want this
                                                                In a broken place, no I can't be traced
Can't believe that I'm falling, like this for you
                                                                Wish you handled my feelings in better ways
Can't you see that I'm falling
                                                                Can't you see that I'm falling (falling, falling for)
I'm falling, falling for you
                                                                Can't you see that I'm falling, falling for you
              Am Em
  Ooh, ooh, ooh (falling, falling)
                                                                Show me where your heart is (oh, oh)
                                                                Can't you see that I'm falling, falling for you (ooh)
   Ooh, ooh, ooh (falling, falling)
                                                                Can't you see that I'm honest, and I want this
And it's crazy the things I would do for us
                                                                                       Am
                                                                Can't believe that I'm falling, like this for you
But the stars don't align, they're not here for us
                                                                Can't you see that I'm falling
It's a shame girls like you don't know how to trust
                                                                I'm falling, falling for you
Wish my feelings would turn 'round from love to lust
                                                                I'm falling for you
I swear I saw you comin'
                                                                Ooh, ooh, ooh (falling, falling)
I'mma fool for runnin', yeah
                                                                I'm falling for you
You don't wanna be rushed
                                                                Ooh, ooh, ooh (falling, falling)
