So I just know that
Everything that has appeared throughout my path
Is what will make me go again
No matter what the time, I'll stand

I feel alone and sometimes small
Well, that's just something we all go through
Like a random butterfly
Flying so high above the monsoon

Going through the toughest choices is what makes us feel alive
When I'm gone and turn to dust, will everything be part of time?
