

Yellowcard - Dear Bobbie

Tom: C

O solinho que toca durante as partes do depoimento do avô do Ryan Key que fica (C, Em), é feito pelo teclado, mas passando pro violão o solinho pode ser feito assim:

Dear Bobbie,
(C, Em)

Do you remember when you were young and very pretty? I do, I remember pleated skirts, black and white saddle shoes. Do you remember dancing that night?

I do, I still think of you when we dance, although we cant jitterbug as we did then.

C Am
Do you remember when
C
How long has it been?
Am F
1945 you opened my blue eyes

G
To see a whole new life
C
Do you remember when
Am
I told you this that night,
C
That if you're by my side

Am
When everyday begins
F
I'll fall for you again
G
I made a promise when
C
I told you this that night

F
And I'll be fine
C G Am
Cause when I die, then I die loving you
C F
It's alright, I'll be fine
C G Am
Cause when I die then I die loving you
Dm F (C, Em)
Loving you, loving you

(C, Em)
Do you remember the times we would give up on eachother and get back together, then we finally was married in 1949. We drove the yellow convertible all night long. Do you remember? I do.

C Am
Life has led us here

C
Together all these years
Am
This house that we have made
F
Holds twenty-thousand days
G
And memories we've saved
C
Since life has lead us here

F
And I'll be fine
C G Am
Cause when I die, then I die loving you
C F
It's alright, I'll be fine
C G Am
Cause when I die then I die loving you
Dm F (C, Em)
Loving you, loving you

C Am
I'm coming home to you
C
Stepping off my shoes
Am
Resting in my chair
F
See you standing there
G
The silver in your hair

C
I'm coming home to you
Am C
When I lay tonight, when I close my eyes
Am
I know the sun will rise
F
Here the next life
G C
As long as your still mine, then its alright

F
I'll be fine
C G Am
Cause when I die, then I die loving you
C F
It's alright, I'll be fine
C G Am
Cause when I die then I die loving you
Dm F (C, Em)
Loving you, loving you

(C, Em)
You have gray hair now but you're a beautiful women and the years have been good to both of us. We walk slow now, but we still have eachother. The glue of love is still bonding us together. That is what I remember. Do you remember?
