

Zach Bryan - 28

tom:

Intro: G D7M Em C
G D7M Em C
G D7M Em C
G D7M Em C

[Primeira Parte]

G D7M Em C
You took a train to the south side of Boston
G D7M Em C
You showed me where your old man stayed
G D7M Em C
Took 28 years of blood I was lost in
G D7M Em C
To feel loved on my own birthday
G D7M Em C
I always felt like I's in between something
G D7M Em C
Like home and somewhere far away
G D7M Em C
But tonight on the west side in a bar out in Brooklyn
G D7M Em C
I saw tears outline your face

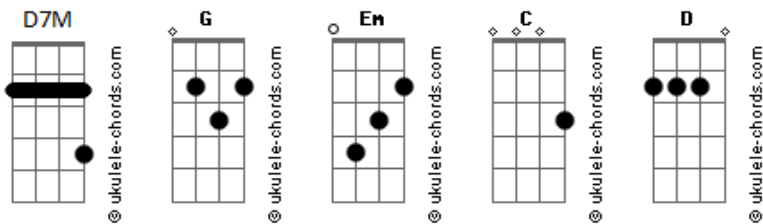

[Refrão]

Em D
How lucky are we?
G
It's been a hell of a week, but we're all grown now
Em D G
There's smoke seeping out, of your bloody teeth
C
But you're home somehow

[Ponte] Em D G C
Em D G C

[Segunda Parte]

Acordes

G D7M Em C
I'll be upstairs with the guitar I's given
G D7M Em C
When I was barely fourteen
G D7M Em C
When did McGlinchey's get so damn crowded
G D7M Em C
And why are the crowds so damn green?
G D7M Em C
I lost my mind on the streets of the city
G D7M Em C
Maybe I lost all hope too
G D7M Em C
Took 28 years of blood pumping through me
G D7M Em C
To get to this evening with you

[Refrão]

Em D
How lucky are we?
G
It's been a hell of a week, but we're all grown now
Em D G
There's smoke seeping out, of your bloody teeth
C
But you're home somehow

[Solo] Em D G C
Em D G C

[Refrão]

Em D
How lucky are we?
G
It's been a hell of a week, but we're all grown now
Em D G
There's smoke seeping out, of your bloody teeth
C
But you're home somehow