

Zakk Wylde - Sleeping Dogs

Tom: Bb
                                                                For the sleeping dogs that lie
  intro: (Cm ) Gm Eb
                                                               They are live and well, live and well
                                                                Gone but not forgotten
                                                                You cut me down just to watch me bleed
You couldn't find your peace
                                                                Gone but not forgotten
Within the bitterness that burns
                                                                I gave you the last word and that's the last thing you take
For the sleeping dogs that lie
                                                                from me
Forever to return, forever to return
                                                                (intro) (solo)
Gone but not forgotten
                                                                Gone but not forgotten
You cut me down just to watch me bleed
                                                                You cut me down just to watch me bleed
Gone but not forgotten
                                                               Gone but not forgotten
                                         Fb
I gave you the last word and that's the last thing you'll take I gave you the last word and that's the last thing you take (intro)
                                                                (intro)
                                                               Eb
Isn't justice that you hope?
                                                                Last thing you take from me
Believe in the story that you sell
                                                               The last thing you take from me
