Zayn Malik - Bright

Free of the flash, dirt on your shoes, I don't know you
  I found my life
                                                                    I'm loving the colour white
In between shots and getting high
                                                                    Surrounding your colored eyes

The cage I was in
                                                                 Though she is the kryptonite
                                                                 She stays in my crib tonight
Fell away when she asked me to dance again, yeah
                                                                 Am

                                                                 Turn out the fucking lights
In between a first kiss and a last goodbye
                                                                 I wanna see you bright
The dust settled down, now I can see through the crowd
                                                                 I wanna see you bright
  I'm loving the colour white

Turn out the fucking lights
                                                                  I wanna see you bright
I wanna see you bright
                                                                 I wanna see you bright
I wanna see you bright
                                                                 I wanna see you bright
I wanna see you bright
                                                                 I wanna see you bright
I wanna see you bright
                                                                 I wanna see you bright
I wanna see you
                                                                 I wanna see you bright
  For the love in \ensuremath{\mathsf{my}}\xspace mind, love for the bass
                                                                 I wanna see you bright
She likes getting high just for the day
                                                                 I wanna see you

She's different in night, she knows what I say
