

Zayn Malik - EYES CLOSED (feat. JISOO)

Whatever you thought, just it ain't nothing new tom:
                                                                           Abm
                                                               You know, by now, we've seen it all
Time is standing still and I don't wanna leave your lips
                                                               Said: Oh-ooh
                                                                                               Abm
Tracing my body with your fingertips
                                                               We should fall in love with our eyes closed
                                                     Ahm
                                                               Better if we keep it the way we don't know
I know what you're feeling and I know you wanna say it (yeah,
                                                               The best we've been in
                            Abm
                                                                                           Gb
                                                                   Abm
I do too, but we gotta be patient (cannot be patient)
                                                               The names and the faces of who we were with
                                                               And oh-ooh
'Cause someone like me
                                                               Ain't nobody perfect, but it's all good
And someone like you
                                                               The past can't hurt us if we don't look
Really shouldn't work, yeah, the history is proof
                                                                   В
                                                               Let's let it go
Damned if I don't
                                                                                     Gb
                                                               Better if we fall in love with our eyes closed
Damned if I do
           Abm
You know, by now, we've seen it all
                                                               (Oh-oh, oh-oh, keep your eyes closed)
      F
Said: Oh-ooh
                                                               'Cause someone like me
We should fall in love with our eyes closed
                                                               And someone like you
                                                                                Abm
Better if we keep it the way we don't know
                                                               Really shouldn't work, yeah, the history is proof
                                                               Damned if I don't
The best we've been in
   Ahm
                              Gb
The names and the faces of who we were with
                                                               Damned if I do
                                                                           Abm
                                                               You know, by now, we've seen it all
                                                               Said: Oh-ooh
Ain't nobody perfect, but it's all good
The past can't hurt us if we don't look
                                                               We should fall in love with our eyes closed
Let's let it go
                                                               Better if we keep it the way we don't know
                     Gb
Better if we fall in love with our eyes closed
                                                               The best we've been in
                                                               The names and the faces of who we were with
        Abm
(Oh-oh, oh-oh, oh-oh)
                                                                   Е
                                                               And oh-ooh
                                                     Abm Gb
I got tunnel vision every second that you're with me
                                                               Ain't nobody perfect, but it's all good
No, I don't care what anybody says, just kiss me
                                                               The past can't hurt us if we don't look
(0oh)
                                                               Let's let it go
                                                                                     Gb
                                                               Better if we fall in love with our eyes closed
'Cause you could be trouble, but it could be good
            Abm
                                                               (Oh-oh) With our eyes closed
I've been the same, kind of misunderstood
